

Cohort Default Rate (CDR) Information – 2019-2020

Cohort Default Rate (CDR): TBD*

National average Cohort Default Rate (CDR): 10.1% for FY2016

Percentage of Fall 2019 Students with Direct Loans: 8.3%

*During the 2019/2020 academic year, Amberton University was approved to participate in the Title IV Direct Loan student financial assistance programs. Prior to this time, the University was only participating in the Pell Grant financial assistance program. Since the University recently entered the Direct Loan program, a Cohort Default Rate (CDR) has not been determined for the University. Once a CDR has been determined, the information posted on this page will be updated annually, to reflect current information.
